2.3 Other important information

By depositing funds with BOQ (via BOQ Money Market Deposit Accounts) investors obtain the protection of dealing with an ADI licensed under the Banking Act 1959 and regulated by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA).

In an investment context, the risks relevant to your Account include the variability of returns and the potential to lose your deposit. The return on your deposit depends on the interest rate that applies to your Account. The interest rate that we pay is affected by a number of factors. Movements in market interest rates create a risk that the interest rate we pay you might become less attractive when compared to returns on comparable investments. This is particularly relevant if your Account has a fixed rate.

Licensed professionals (Australian Financial Service Licence holders) are required to recommend to our customers the appropriateness of BOQ Money Market Deposit Accounts to meet their stated needs.

We may pay remuneration to these licensed persons, to the extent permitted by law and in accordance with the instructions received from each Account holder.

If you earn interest on deposit funds or any other income in relation to your Account, you may have to pay income tax on the amount earned, depending upon your circumstances.

If you do not provide us with a Tax File Number (TFN) or Australian Business Number (ABN), we must deduct withholding tax from any interest that you earn, provided that the amount you earn exceeds a threshold amount. More information on withholding tax is set out in section 2.4(c).

We recommend that you obtain your own advice regarding all tax matters, as the tax effect of any product or transaction depends upon your individual circumstances.

2.4 Opening an Account

(a) What we need from you

You can apply to open an Account by signing an application form which authorises us to open the Account.

You must first open a call account prior to accessing the term deposit facility.

Under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Act 2006, we are required to collect certain information about you and verify your identity before opening an account for you.

When completing an application form, we will ask you to tell us the following information:

- your name, citizenship, residential address and residencies, date of birth, occupation, source of funds and source of wealth, mobile phone number and email;
- details of the name of the Account;
- whether the Account will be held in trust;
- details of all signatories to the Account;
- details of the primary contact of the Account;
- details of all beneficial owners of the Account; and
- any other name by which you or any signatories may be known (such as maiden name).

We can verify your identity electronically using this information. We will pass this information to an external organisation which will co-ordinate the electronic verification using propriety databases of organisations including:

- Commonwealth and State government departments;
- Credit reporting agencies; and
- Independent, private sector organisations.

You may be required to provide more information to verify your identity. If you want to know:

- more about electronic information, including how we may rely on information held with credit reporting agencies, please refer to our Electronic Identity Verification Disclosure found at boq.com.au; or
- how we collect, use, disclose and generally, how we handle your personal information then you can find more information in our Privacy Policy available at boq.com.au. If we are unable to verify your identity we will be unable to open your Account. Once your Account is open it is important that you keep your details recorded with us up to date.

You can obtain an Application Form by contacting DDH or via your adviser/broker.

We will review all applications to open your Account regardless of how you apply for the Account. We reserve the right to refuse to accept any application, including where it would breach our obligations at law.

(b) New customers

If you are not already a customer, please contact DDH to determine what identification is required to open your Account.

Customers must satisfy the following criteria to acquire this product:

- be an Australian citizen, permanent resident, or resident with acceptable residency status
- and be 18 years or older, or
- be an Australian registered corporation or association, or
- be a trustee of an Australian family, statutory, superannuation, unit or hybrid trust (the beneficiary and the trustee must meet the eligibility criteria of an individual or a corporation).

(c) Tax File Number (TFN)

We are authorised to request your TFN under the Taxation Administration Act 1953. It is not compulsory for you to give us your TFN and declining to provide us your TFN is not an offence. However, if you choose not to, we must deduct withholding tax at rates up to the highest marginal tax rate, plus the Medicare Levy, from any interest or other amounts that you earn.

You can give us your TFN when you open your Account, or at any other time. However if your TFN isn't supplied prior to an interest payment, withholding tax will be deducted and sent to the Australian Tax Office.

For joint Accounts, each Account holder can provide their TFN. If you hold the Account in trust for another person, such as your child, you should quote your own TFN. However, if you are trustee of a formal trust, the TFN quoted should be that of the trust not your personal TFN.

If you have not provided your TFN (or ABN) and you are an exempt person, withholding tax will not be deducted from any money you earn in relation to your Account. However, you must tell us which type of exemption applies to you.

We are required to report details of income earned, withholding tax deducted and TFNs quoted to the Australian Taxation Office. The Privacy Act imposes strict obligations on what we can do with your TFN. We will keep your TFN confidential.

(d) Joint accounts

You can open a joint account with other people.

If your Account is a joint Account you receive and agree to these Terms and Conditions as agent for all other Account holders, and anyone operating on the Account. You must pass on these Terms and Conditions to each of those persons.

You and the other joint holders must indicate how the Account is to be operated (either or both/all to sign). If no nomination is received, we will assume operating instructions to be any party to sign. If you want to change the way the Account is operated, you must advise us in writing.

You (or any other joint holder) can tell us in writing that the Account requires the signatures of all joint holders. If you do, we will not accept a withdrawal, transfer or other instruction that is not authorised by all joint holders (which could include dishonouring a cheque).

Before you open a joint Account, you should understand that:

- each of you is liable for the debts on the Account;
- if any joint holder dies, we treat the credit balance in the Account in accordance with the operating instructions provided;
- we can deposit to your joint Account any cheques payable to any one or more of the joint holders until 1 July 2025 for foreign currency cheques (subject to our approval) and 1 November 2025 for domestic cheques. On and from these dates cheque deposits will no longer be accepted into BOQ Money Market Deposit Accounts;
- the primary contact of the Account will be the person who will be contacted for all matters concerning the account. The primary contact is responsible for notifying other joint holders of matters concerning the Account; and
- where a pre-nominated or an additional nominated account has been provided for your Account, it will be deemed that any one party can instruct electronic fund transfers via telephone but that written third party instructions will need to be provided in accordance with the account signing instructions and Online Services transactions in accordance with the registration nomination when applying for Online Services.

If there is a dispute about the signing authority, we reserve the right to permit account operation only when all joint account holders have signed the instruction.

2.5 Allowing others to use your Account

(a) General

You can nominate another person to use your Account by appointing an Authorised Signatory on your Application Form or at any time after opening the account by completing an 'Appointing a Signatory' form. You are liable for all transactions incurred by that person using your Account, except where you are not liable for loss arising from unauthorised transactions under Chapter C of the ePayments Code. If you appoint an Authorised Signatory, they will also be able to provide instructions to us on your behalf in relation to your pre-nominated or additional nominated account.

Where you appoint a financial adviser, stockbroker or professional adviser company or firm to operate your account any authority you give to them can be exercised by any representative (including authorised representative and employees) of the company or firm notified to us by that company or firm, from time to time. The representative will operate your account, as though that representative were an Authorised Signatory to your Account.

Except in the case of our (or our agents' or employees') or DDH's (as applicable) negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud, you release us and DDH from, and indemnify us and DDH against, all direct losses and liabilities arising from any payment that we make or action we or DDH take, as a result of the instructions we or DDH receive from an Authorised Signatory that is within the authority you have provided under your Application Form, or subsequently in writing.

What can an authorised person do?

If you tell us in writing, we will allow another person to use your Account. You are liable for all transactions incurred by that person using your Account. By allowing another person to operate your account they can make changes to your account, including closing your account. It excludes the ability to change the signing instructions on the account or appoint other Authorised Signatories.

Appointing a Financial Adviser/Stockbroker/Professional Adviser to operate your account

You can appoint your adviser/stockbroker or professional adviser company or firm to operate your BOQ Money Market Deposit Account. When you appoint your adviser/stockbroker or professional adviser company or firm to operate your account, any representative of that company or firm can act as an Authorised Signatory to your account, provided they are registered with DDH as an Authorised Signatory for that company or firm. You can specify the level of authority you wish to give your financial adviser/stockbroker or professional adviser company as follows:

- Full Authority enables withdrawal access to your account and making changes to your account, including closing your account. You are liable for all transactions incurred by that company or firm using your Account.
- Standard Adviser Authority provides the ability to authorise withdrawals to your pre-nominated and additional nominated bank accounts, reduce the amount of any existing regular payment, establish new term deposits in your name, and advise maturity instructions. In addition, this authority allows your financial adviser/stockbroker to process real time deposits and withdrawals to your Account via their ASX regulated Trust Account, for example to settle shares on your behalf.
- Fee Authority enables your financial adviser/stockbroker or professional adviser to withdraw their fees from your Account.
- Tax and Regulatory Authority enables your financial adviser/stockbroker or professional adviser to authorise payments to the Australian Taxation Office and the Australian Securities Investment Commission (ASIC) from your BOQ Money Market Deposit Account.
- Enquiry Authority enables your financial adviser/stockbroker or professional adviser to obtain information on your Account.

If no election is made, your financial adviser/stockbroker or professional adviser will be provided with Standard Adviser Authority.

(b) Cancelling the Authority

You can cancel or amend the authority or remove an Authorised Signatory at any time. We will act on this request within one Bank Business day of being notified of the cancellation. You will, however, be liable for:

- any transactions made prior to the authority being cancelled, regardless of when the transactions are debited to the Account; and

- any future dated payments, cheques or authorities established by the person you authorised prior to the cancellation of the authority.

2.6 Operating your Account

(a) Account instructions

You authorise us to act on instructions that you or your Authorised Signatory:

- give or transmit through electronic equipment, including by electronic mail, secure file transfer protocols or by accessing our Online Services;
- give through any BOQ branch or DDH (as applicable);
- give by phone (refer to clause 2.6(d)); or
- give by fax, mail or delivering written instructions to DDH signed by you.

Subject to clause 4.6, we do not need to seek further confirmation from you in relation to any instructions received by us from you or your Authorised Signatory in relation to your account. Except as otherwise stated in these Terms and Conditions (and in particular clause 5.2), you release us from and indemnify us against all direct losses and liabilities arising from any payment that we make or action we take based on any instruction that we receive, from you or your Authorised Signatory in the form provided above, except in the case of our negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud.

Despite the above, we may decline to act on your instructions when we consider that we have good reason to do so, including as provided for under clause 4.6.

(b) Account information

You can get Account information by contacting us or by accessing DDH's Online Services.

(i) Statements

We will give you a statement, showing all Account transactions since your last statement, at least every six months. We will provide this statement to you, the primary account contact. In addition you can elect for your professional adviser to receive a copy electronically via Online Services. The statement shows the transactions that have been made on your Account since your last statement. Some transactions may not appear on the statement you receive because those transactions have been credited or debited to your Account after your statement was produced.

Your statement contains important information about your Account. You should note that:

2.7 Interest rates

(a) Interest that we pay to you

If you have money in your Account, you may earn interest. Details of interest rates that apply to your Account are:

- printed on your Account statement (if applicable);
- printed in term deposit account confirmations;
- displayed via Online Services;
- available on request or via your broker or adviser; and
- available by contacting us on 1800 006 133.

The interest rate of your Call Account may be affected by several factors including changes in the official cash rate, determined by the Reserve Bank of Australia. Your interest rate can be affected by the prevailing interest rates between Australian Banks. These interest rates may vary depending on a number of factors including Australian interest rates, market liquidity and other economic, social and political factors.

It is therefore not possible for us to disclose the specific interest rates that will apply to your BOQ Money Market Deposit Account in these Terms and Conditions.

(b) How the interest you earn is calculated and paid

Interest on your BOQ Money Market Deposit Accounts, including term deposits, is paid into your Call Account and then may be directed to a pre-nominated external bank account. Interest is calculated on the daily closing balance of your Account using the following formula:

Daily Closing Balance x Interest Rate% / 365

Example of how daily interest is calculated

At the close of business on 1 May the Account has a balance of $100,000. The interest rate applicable to the Account is 3% p.a.

Daily interest calculation for 1 May:

$$100,000 \times 3\% / 365 = \8.22

We calculate this interest:

- from and including the day that funds are deposited to your Account; and
- on the daily balance in your Account

We pay interest monthly on all Call Accounts and either at the end of term, or as arranged on commencement, on Term Deposits. If you choose the end of term option and the term is longer than 12 months, we will pay you interest annually and at the end of term.

Interest payments are paid to your Call Account and then either:

- directly to an account with us or another Financial Institution; or
- added to the principal amount (i.e. your current deposit amount) and reinvested (Call Accounts only).

Term Deposit Accounts – early withdrawals/Break Cost

We may allow you to withdraw your money during the investment term from a Term Deposit Account by allowing you to partially or fully withdraw from your Account. Any subsequent requests for early partial withdrawals from the same deposit will require all your funds to be withdrawn and your Term Deposit Account closed.

You must give us 31 days prior notice if you want to withdraw all or part of your money from your Term Deposit Account outside of the Grace Period, unless you are in a financial hardship situation (in which case we may allow you to withdraw your funds earlier). The first day of the notice period is the day that we receive your notice of early withdrawal. You will be asked to provide us with your instructions for the disbursement of the funds from your Account at the time that you give us your 31 days' notice of early withdrawal. The funds will be automatically disbursed to the Account that you have nominated 32 days after we receive your notice of early withdrawal.

If you do not provide sufficient details of a bank account to enable us to disburse your funds to that account, we will make the funds available to you in your Call Account.

If you are in financial hardship, you must provide evidence of such financial hardship and meet BOQ's criteria for verifying financial hardship.

You may change or cancel your request to partially or fully withdraw and close the Account at any time up until 5:00pm (Brisbane time) 3 Business days before the funds will be disbursed by contacting us or DDH.

If you cancel your instructions to partially or fully withdraw and close your Account, then your funds will continue in the same Account until the maturity date without any interest rate adjustment, unless you later issue another early withdrawal notice, giving 31 days' notice.

A Break Cost will be applied to your Account if you withdraw funds before the maturity date. Sometimes that means that we take money from the principal of your deposit, or you may need to refund interest that we have already paid you.

The Break Cost is calculated using a formula which varies depending on a number of factors, including:

- The amount to be withdrawn;
- The time to maturity;
- The current interest rates for the relevant term; and
- The outlook of Australian interest rates.

The minimum Break Cost is $100.

Example of the break cost

On 1 July, a term deposit is opened with a balance of $150,000 for a term of 6 months (180 days) at an interest rate of 4.25% p.a. On 1 November, 4 months (120 days) into the investment term, a full withdrawal is requested from the Account.

On withdrawal of the Account balance the interest for the account will be recalculated as follows:

Interest accrued at the 6 month rate of 4.25% p.a. ($$150,000 \times 4.25\% / 365 \times 120 \text{ days}$) = $2,095.89

Interest accrued at the 4 month rate (completed time) of 3.95% p.a. (4 month rate on 1 July, being the interest rate applicable for an investment of 4 months as the original investment on the date of investment): ($$150,000 \times 3.95\% / 365 \times 120 \text{ days}$) = $1,947.95

Total break cost: $$2,095.89 - $1,947.95 = $147.94$

If the total break cost from the above calculation was less than $100, the break cost would be $100 (minimum cost).

2.8 On maturity of your term deposit account

When your Term Deposit Account matures, the funds will be automatically reinvested, unless you provide us with instructions prior to the term deposit maturing. It is your responsibility to monitor the maturity date for your Term Deposit and we will not notify you when your Term Deposit is due to mature.

You may reinvest part or all of the funds for a term and rate accepted by you provided you still meet all of the eligibility criteria. If you do not provide instructions upon maturity of the Term Deposit, we will reinvest the funds for the same term as the initial investment at the applicable interest rate which is in place at the time of reinvestment.

For example, if you invest $50,000 in a term deposit account with us for a term of 4 months, and you do not tell us what to do with the funds at maturity, we will reinvest those funds for another 4 months upon expiration of the initial term.

We will pay you interest on the reinvested funds at the interest rate we then offer on investments of that amount and term. This interest rate may be less than the interest rate applicable to your original investment. In addition, as interest rates may vary over time, we encourage you to contact us before your Term Deposit Account matures to discuss the interest rates that are available to you. It is important to note that interest rates will change and you are unlikely to receive the same interest rate on your Term Deposit Account from one term to the next term.

If you wish to change the term for which the funds will be reinvested, you must inform us of this change by, at the latest, prior to 4.30 pm on the day of maturity.

Alternatively, you can change the term for your Term Deposit Account during the Grace Period.

2.9 Grace Period

If we do not receive instructions from you or your Adviser when your term deposit matures, your deposit will be automatically reinvested for the same period as your previous term. However, you may be entitled to a Grace Period.

2.10 When you stop using your Account

(a) Inactive Accounts

If your Account has not been transacted on by way of a deposit or withdrawal for 2 years or more and:

- the balance in your Account is nil, we may close your Account without prior notice to you. If we do so, we will notify you of the Account closure promptly after closing your Account;
- you have a credit balance up to $500, we may close your Account provided we first give you at least 30 days written notice of our intention to do so. If we do so, we will return the funds in your Account to you, by transferring the funds to another active Account or, if you do not have another active Account, we will pay the closing balance of your Account to you on request (no interest will accrue or be payable to you on this amount from the time your Account is closed to the time it is paid to you).

(b) Unclaimed money

Where funds in your Account become "unclaimed money" for the purposes of the Banking Act 1959 (Cth), we will treat such amounts in accordance with the requirements under section 69 of the Banking Act. Money held in an Account that is a term deposit will not become unclaimed money. We will treat all other amounts in accordance with section 69 of the Banking Act.

If funds in your Account become unclaimed money, we will close the Account and forward credit balances exceeding $500 to the Commonwealth Government. If the Commonwealth pays interest on unclaimed moneys to us, we will make a corresponding payment to you.

(c) When we can operate on your Account

In certain circumstances, we can operate on your Account. For example, we will close a term deposit account where the balance is less than $5,000 and transfer the funds to your Call Account. We can also correct mistakes on your Account, without any notice to you. We can determine the order of priority of payments from the funds in your Account.

(d) Our right to combine Accounts

We can combine the balances of two or more of your Accounts, even if the Accounts are held in joint names. For example, if your Account has insufficient funds to honour a payment, we might use money in any other Account in your name to honour a payment from your Account.

However, this would not happen where, for example:

- we know the Accounts are not held by you in the same capacity (e.g. where you have a personal Account and also an Account as trustee for a self-managed superannuation fund);
- we have specifically agreed to keep your Accounts separate; or
- we are bound by a Code of Conduct not to do so (such as the Code of Operation for Centrelink Direct Credit Payments or the Banking Code of Practice).

We will tell you if we have combined any of your Accounts. We do not have to notify you before we exercise our right of combination. However, we will provide you with details of such amounts or any combination of accounts upon request from you.

You should not assume that an Account will be combined by us to honour a payment unless we have agreed to do so.

(e) Closing Accounts

If you ask us to, we will close an Account that is in credit upon receipt of a correctly completed request and with 31 days' prior notice if it is a Term Deposit Account.

We may close your Account with or without reason at any time by giving you at least 30 days' written notice (for example, if you cease to meet any of the eligibility criteria on any of your Accounts or your Account becomes inactive or has never been active as described in these Terms and Conditions).

We may also close your Account, at any time and without giving you or your appointed agent prior notice, if:

- we are required to do so by law or in order to comply with our legal or other regulatory obligations;
- you don't provide us with information we reasonably require to verify your identity or the source of any funds deposited into the Account or to otherwise comply with our legal obligations;
- you don't provide us with accurate and up to date foreign tax residency status information;
- you are no longer an Australian resident; or
- we reasonably believe that:
 - doing so is necessary to prevent loss to you or us;
 - your Account is being used in a manner that may result in loss to you or us;
 - there is fraudulent activity occurring in relation to your Account;
 - your Account is being operated in breach of these Terms and Conditions in a way that increases risk to you or us;
 - your use of the Account or activities you undertake in connection with the Account are at high risk of involving fraudulent or other unlawful behaviour or loss to us or other persons (for example, activities that are at high risk of being involved in scams);
 - you provided us with false or misleading information when you opened your Account which materially increases the risks we are exposed to in relation to you or your Account and we would not have opened your Account had the correct information been provided to us; or
 - your Account is being used to defame, harass or threaten any person, or to promote or encourage physical or mental harm of any person or to promote violence against any person (including in the use of the payment descriptions and/or references).

If we close your Account, we will pay the credit balance of your Account to you after allowing for accrued interest, fees and charges.

If we close your Account:

- you must immediately cancel any automatic payment authorities linked to your Account. Automatic payment authorities will continue until cancelled by you.

(i) How we calculate your closing balance

The credit balance of your Account is calculated as the current balance plus any deposit interest, less any accrued Account fees and government charges applicable, up to the closing date.

(ii) How we calculate your closing balance if there are uncleared funds

If there are any uncleared funds in your Account at the time you ask us to close it, we are unable to pay those funds to you until they are cleared.

(iii) What you must do when you close your Account

You may close your Account by:

- telling us verbally, electronically via email or in writing; and
- cancelling all direct debits or direct credit arrangements.

(f) Restricting Accounts

We may restrict your Account to prevent all or certain types of transactions at any time and without giving you prior notice, if:

- we are required to do so by law or in order to comply with our legal or other regulatory obligations;
- you don't provide us with information we reasonably require to verify your identity or the source of any funds deposited into the Account or to otherwise comply with our legal obligations;
- you don't provide us with accurate and up to date foreign tax residency status information;
- you are no longer an Australian resident;
- we reasonably believe that:
 - doing so is necessary to prevent loss to you or us;
 - your Account is being used in a manner that may result in loss to you or us;
 - there is fraudulent activity occurring in relation to your Account;
 - your Account is being operated in breach of these Terms and Conditions in a way that increases risk to you or us;

- your use of the Account or activities you undertake in connection with the Account are at high risk of involving fraudulent or other unlawful behaviour or loss to us or other persons (for example, activities that are at high risk of being involved in scams);
- you provided us with false or misleading information when you opened your Account which materially increases the risks we are exposed to in relation to you or your Account and we would not have opened your Account had the correct information been provided to us;
- your Account is being used to defame, harass or threaten any person, or to promote or encourage physical or mental harm of any person or to promote violence against any person (including in the use of the payment descriptions and/or references); or
- the transfer, payment or other transaction is to an account or to a merchant that we reasonably believe is:
 - owned or controlled by a cryptocurrency exchange; or
 - owned or controlled by a digital asset exchange.

We will act reasonably when restricting your Account, and we will not do more than is reasonably necessary considering the reasons why we have taken such action. We will tell you if we restrict your Account and, where possible, we will tell you what you need to do for us to remove the restriction or suspension.

If your Term Deposit Account is restricted to prevent withdrawals when it matures, any instructions you give or have given to us to withdraw any funds from your Term Deposit Account at maturity will be suspended. Where this is the case, in addition to being able to give us instructions to nominate a different term for which the funds will be reinvested, you may instruct us to transfer some or all of the funds in your Term Deposit Account to another account you have or open with us in the same name that has been or will also be restricted. We will continue to pay interest on the credit balance in your Term Deposit Account while it is restricted and, unless you have provided us with instructions to reinvest it for a different term or transfer funds to another restricted account with us, the funds in your Term Deposit Account will continue to be reinvested as set out in clause 2.8 when it matures. If you instruct us to transfer some or all of the funds in your Term Deposit Account to another account with us, whether interest is payable and, if so, the applicable interest rate will be determined by the Terms and Conditions that apply to that account.

3. PAYMENT SERVICES

3.1 Payment Services

Payment Services are available on your Call Account.

Please note from 1 April 2025, we will not support and may prevent transfers or other payments from your Account to an account or to a merchant that we reasonably believe is:

- owned or controlled by a cryptocurrency exchange; or
- owned or controlled by a digital asset exchange.

3.2 Authorised Users

A reference to “you” includes all Authorised Users using your Account where the context allows, unless stated otherwise, and “your” has a corresponding meaning.

3.3 Withdrawals via bank cheques (not available from 1 July 2025)

(a) Features and benefits

Bank cheques allow you to make payments to other parties if you do not wish to pay by electronic means.

(b) Cheque access

You must have a credit balance in your Call Account before we can provide you with a bank cheque.

(c) Risks

You can stop a bank cheque being paid by notifying us before the cheque has been presented. If the cheque has already been paid, the bank cheque is unable to be stopped.

(d) Other important information

(i) What is a cheque?

A cheque is a written order to a financial institution to pay a sum of money on demand.

(ii) Time taken for clearing a cheque

Cheque clearance involves several steps, which can take a number of days.

The usual time for clearance of a cheque is between 5 and 7 Business Days.

Normally, you will not be able to withdraw the value of a cheque you deposit until the cheque is cleared, even though your Account may be credited with the proceeds of the cheque.

(iii) Third party cheque deposits

Cheque deposits into your Account will only be available until 1 July 2025 for foreign currency (subject to our approval) and 1 November 2025 for domestic. Cheques can normally only be deposited into the Account of the person or company named as the payee on the cheque. If you are depositing a cheque to your Account, and you are not the person named in the cheque, please ensure that the payee transfers ownership of the cheque to you by signing the back of the cheque in the following manner:

Please pay [your Account name]

Signed [payee's signature who we will ask to identify]

We can ask you at the time you deposit the cheque, how you received the cheque, and make enquiries with the payee or the person who drew the cheque, to ensure that the cheque has not been lost or stolen.

If the cheque has not been properly signed over, or if a satisfactory explanation as to how you received the cheque has not been given to us, we may refuse to accept the deposit.

(iv) Cheques unpaid or "dishonoured"

If a cheque you have deposited is dishonoured, we will tell you. We will reduce the balance of your Account by the amount of the cheque if we have already credited your Account with that amount.

3.4 Bank cheques (Not available from 1 July 2025)

(a) Features and benefits

A "bank cheque" is a cheque that a bank draws on itself. Bank cheques are generally treated in the same way as ordinary cheques. Although many people regard bank cheques as cash, in certain circumstances the bank cheque might not be paid by the bank that issues it. Banks who are members of the Australian Bankers' Association (including us) have adopted the following policy in relation to bank cheques:

(i) Forged or unauthorised bank cheques

If the signature of an officer of a bank is forged or placed on a bank cheque without the bank's authority, the bank is not legally liable to honour it.

(ii) Bank cheque materially altered

A bank will dishonour a bank cheque which has been fraudulently and materially altered. A bank will cooperate with any holder of a cheque, or a person who is about to receive it, who wants to verify that the cheque is a valid bank cheque.

(iii) Bank cheque reported lost or stolen

Where a bank is told that a bank cheque is lost or stolen and is satisfied that this is the case, the bank will not honour it if it is presented for payment by a person who has no right to it. The bank can provide a replacement bank cheque for a fee.

(iv) Court order restraining payment

A bank must observe an order of a court restraining the bank from paying its bank cheque which is presented for payment while the order is in force.

(v) Failure of consideration for the issue of a bank cheque

Where a bank has not received payment for issuing a bank cheque to a customer (e.g. the customer's cheque to the bank in payment for the bank cheque is dishonoured), the bank will refuse to pay the bank cheque if the person presenting the bank cheque for payment:

- has not given value for it (e.g. the bank cheque is stolen); or
- has given value for it but at the time of doing so he or she knew the bank had not been paid for the bank cheque (e.g. that the cheque in favour of the bank had been dishonoured).

Details of our fees for the issue of a bank cheque or a replacement bank cheque are set out in Fees and Charges.

3.5 Direct debits

(a) Features and benefits

A direct debit arrangement is an agreement between you and a merchant in which you preauthorise the merchant to bill your Call Account at predetermined intervals (e.g. monthly or quarterly) or at intervals as agreed by you. The amount may differ or be the same for each transaction. For example, you may ask your local gymnasium to charge your monthly gym membership fee to your Call Account each month.

Some benefits of a direct debit arrangement are:

- it ensures timely payments are made to the merchant;
- it saves you time as direct debits are processed automatically; and
- it may save you money when compared to other payment methods, such as cheques and money orders.

You should be aware however, if there are insufficient funds in your Account to cover the direct debit, you may be liable for both late payment fees charged by the merchant and additional bank fees will also apply.

You will need to enter into a direct debit service agreement with the person who will be debiting your Account. We will then allow that person to debit your Account in accordance with that agreement.

(b) Some rules about direct debits

To institute a direct debit arrangement, you will need to give your personal details such as your Account number and BSB to the person who will be debiting your Account.

You are encouraged to maintain a record of any direct debit arrangement you enter into with a merchant.

To change a direct debit arrangement you should contact the merchant at least 15 days prior to the next scheduled payment. Until you attempt to change or cancel the direct debit arrangement we must accept the merchants transaction.

Should you elect to close your Account, or should we close your Account, you should contact the merchant to revise your direct debit arrangement as the merchant may stop providing the goods and/or services.

We recommend you keep a copy of any change in Account details letter sent to your merchant and your direct debit service agreements. This correspondence will be required if your merchant does not comply with your request in a timely manner and you decide to dispute any incorrectly charged direct debits. Any issues with your direct debits, including the failure of the merchant to act on a change in Account details advice, should be taken up directly with your merchant first.

Should the merchant fail to act in accordance with your instructions you may have rights to dispute the transaction.

(c) Cancelling a direct debit

If the direct debit is set up drawing on your BSB and Account number, you may instruct us to cancel the direct debit on your behalf. If you instruct us to cancel the direct debit, we will prevent the previously authorised party from debiting your Account and we will advise that party's financial institution that we have done this. You should also contact the previously authorised party yourself to instruct them to cancel the direct debit.

3.6 Direct credits

(a) Features and benefits

You can authorise any person (e.g. your employer) to electronically credit funds to your Account. See section 2.6(c).

(b) Some rules about direct credits

To institute a direct credit arrangement, you will need to give your personal details, such as your Account number, to the person who will be crediting your Account.

If you wish to stop the direct credit arrangement, you will need to instruct the person who will be crediting your Account directly. We are unable to stop direct credits from being deposited to your Account.

If your Account is closed and you do not notify the person who will be crediting your Account of your new bank account details, any funds credited to your old Account will automatically be sent back to the person crediting your Account.

3.7 Periodic Payments

(a) Features and benefits

You can arrange to transfer payments from your Call Account automatically, so that you do not have to remember to make the payments yourself. This service is particularly useful for making pension or loan payments, either to us or to another financial institution.

Unlike direct debits, the person you are paying does not need to know your personal details, such as your Account number (unless the person you are paying is us). You can cancel a Periodical Payment using Online Services, alternatively you can instruct us at any time to cancel the service, however you must tell us at least two Bank Business Days before your next periodic payment is due.

(b) Risks

We will attempt to make payments on the days you tell us to. However, we are not responsible for:

- failing to make a payment;
- making a late payment; or
- any other failure to follow your instructions, except in the case of our (or our employees' or agents') negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud.

If we do not make the payment, you are still responsible for making that payment. You must ensure that there are sufficient cleared funds in the Account when the payment is due. If there are not sufficient funds, the payment may not be made. If you do not tell us of cancellation of a periodic payment at least two Bank Business Days before the next payment date, we may make that payment regardless of your instruction not to do so.

(c) Stopping a periodic payment

If you have set up a periodic payment from your Account, and you want to stop a specific transfer you can do this via Online Services. Alternatively we can stop the payment but you will need to tell us at least two Bank Business Days before that transfer is due and tell us:

- the amount of the transfer;
- the payee;
- when the transfer is due; and
- your Account that the transfer is to be deducted from.

(d) Other important information

The funds will be transferred from your Account on the day the transfer is due. If the transfer is due on a day that is not a Bank Business Day, it will be paid on the Bank Business Day prior to the due date.

If your transfer is going to an Account at another financial institution, even if the transfer is due on a Bank Business Day, we may not be able to pay it until the next Business Day.

We can cancel your instruction for a transfer order at any time by telling you in writing, including where a transfer has failed three consecutive times due to insufficient or uncleared funds. We will also stop transfers in other circumstances (for example, on notification of death or bankruptcy).

3.8 Telegraphic transfers

(a) Features and benefits

We can transfer funds electronically to other banks within Australia and overseas. We will send the transfers to the payee's bank through other Australian and overseas financial institutions. Normally, we expect the overseas payment to arrive within 48 hours, but processing times can vary.

(b) Risks

We cannot guarantee when delivery of funds made by telegraphic transfer will arrive. If a payment is required to be made by a certain time, you must ensure that it is received by that time.

We do not accept liability if a telegraphic transfer is not made, is late, or we fail to follow your instructions, in each case for reasons outside of our control.

If we do not make the payment, you are still responsible for making that payment.

3.9 Foreign currency cheque deposits (Not available after 1 July 2025)

(a) Features and benefits

Subject to our approval and until 1 July 2025, you can lodge foreign currency cheques for credit to your Account. Foreign cheques must be deposited no later than 90 days after the issue date of the cheque, and be greater in value than AUD$100.00. Foreign currency cheques are delivered by DDH to BOQ for negotiation at least twice weekly. We will convert the foreign currency amount to Australian dollars. Usually the exchange rate is applied on the day the cheque is credited to your Account.

(b) Risks

Like all cheques, a foreign currency cheque can be dishonoured. Because the exchange rate that is applied to your cheque is the rate on the day the cheque is credited to your Account, the exchange rate may be more or less favourable to you than when you requested the foreign currency cheque, or when you first received the cheque. This means that the cheque may be worth more or less to you at the time of crediting to your Account than when you received it.

Foreign currency cheques usually take 8 weeks to be cleared, but may take longer.

You will not have access to the funds represented by the cheque until it is cleared.

4. GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

4.1 Changes to these Terms and Conditions

We can change the Terms and Conditions that apply to your Account. The types of changes we can make are:

- Changes to interest rates and the way we calculate them (however, if we have notified you that the interest rate on your Account will be fixed for a particular period, we will not change the rate during that period);
- Changes to fees and the way we calculate them (including adding new fees and charges);
- Changes required to be made to comply with any law, or guidance or requirement of a regulator, or a decision of a court or other dispute resolution process;
- Changes to the way you access your Account, or any other Banking Services we provide;
- Changes to any other term and condition if:
 - it is made for security reasons;
 - we reasonably consider you will benefit from it;
 - it is administrative or minor, or corrects a mistake or omission;
 - it reflects changes to our business or technological systems;
 - it reflects current industry or market products or conditions; or
 - it is otherwise reasonably made on a product basis or a like customer basis; and
- Adding new products or stopping existing products.

We will tell you of changes as set out below and as required by the law and any code to which we subscribe.

Generally, we will tell you about changes as soon as reasonably possible (which may be before or after the change is made) or, where the change is unfavourable to you, by providing you with 30 days' notice. However, if we change an interest rate, we will tell you no later than the date of the change, unless we are not able to because the interest rate is calculated according to a money market rate or some other external rate, or a rate otherwise designated as a variable rate. The current interest rate of your Account is available via Online Services. Where there is a change to, or introduction of, a government fee or charge, we will tell you reasonably promptly after the government notifies us (however, we do not have to tell you if the government publicises the change to or introduction of the fee or charge). Subject to any applicable law or industry code to which we subscribe, we may also give you a shorter notice period (or no notice) of an of an unfavourable change if:

- it is reasonable for us to manage a material and immediate risk; or
- there is a change to, or introduction of, a government fee or charge that you pay directly, or indirectly, as part of your Banking Service. In that case, we will tell you about the introduction or change reasonably promptly after the government notifies us (however, we do not have to tell you about it if the government publicises the introduction or change).

We tell you of changes by writing to you, advertising in a newspaper, placing a notice on or with a statement of account or other material we send you, or in any other way permitted by law or any code to which we subscribe.

If we are required to notify you in writing of any changes, we will send the notice to the last electronic address (email) or where no email is held or you have opted in to receive your notifications via post then to the last mailing address recorded by us or it will be available to you via Online Services. For joint accounts, we will only send one notice to the primary account contact. If you have agreed to us doing so, we can notify you of any changes by email, or where permitted by posting the information on DDH's website.

If you elect to receive notices electronically, you will not receive paper copies of those notices from us unless you specifically request this of us. If you do not check your Account via Online Services regularly, you might not be aware of a change to your Account until after the change has become effective.

If you do not wish to receive notifications electronically, please contact us to opt out of electronic notifications.

4.2 Covering us for loss

You agree that if we suffer or sustain any direct loss, claim, demand or damage because of:

- the use or misuse of your Account;
- any misuse of our facsimile instructions service, online services or any other communication services;
- the use or misuse of any payment instrument or account access mechanism used with your Account; or
- any breach of the Terms and Conditions in this booklet,

by you or anyone authorised by you, or someone purporting to be you or someone authorised by you to use your Account or because of any Authorised Signatory acting outside the scope of your authority, you will save us harmless and pay us the amount of that loss, claim demand or damage on demand, including all reasonable legal costs, even after your Account is closed. This indemnity does not apply to the extent of any loss resulting from our (or our employees' or agents') negligence, wilful misconduct or fraud.

In addition, you or an Authorised Signatory will, if requested, provide to us an additional indemnity in a form acceptable to us before we act on your instructions (including instructions from an Authorised Signatory on your behalf).

You will not be liable for any loss, claim, demand or damage caused by us or our employees or agents in circumstances where there is a breach of a legal duty of care owed to you by us or any of our employees or agents or if we or our employees or agents have engaged in wilful misconduct or been fraudulent, and such loss or damage is a reasonably foreseeable result of any such breach or conduct.

4.3 Customer integrity

You must deal with us honestly and in good faith at all times. If we suffer loss because you do not deal with us honestly or in good faith, we will take steps to recover that loss. We must do that in the interests of our other customers and shareholders. In some circumstances we will give you notice telling you what the loss is. In some circumstances we do not have to give you a notice. For example, a court may excuse us from giving notice, or we may have made reasonable attempts to notify you without success.

4.4 Authorised Signatories

- (a) You appoint an Authorised Signatory at your own risk. You are responsible for monitoring the transactions that the Authorised Signatory makes on your Account. Accordingly, you are responsible for the transactions that the Authorised Signatory makes on your Account, even if you are not aware of the transaction.
- (b) You can cancel the Authorised Signatory's or any other person's authority at any time by telling us in writing, however you will be liable for:
 - i. Any transactions made prior to the authority being cancelled/or notifying us of the cancellation; and
 - ii. Any future dated payments established by the Authorised Signatory prior to the cancellation of the authority and/or you notifying us of the cancellation.

4.5 Online Services

- (a) You agree:
 - i. To use Online Services only if permitted by us for legitimate purposes;
 - ii. Not to interfere with or damage (or attempt to

- interfere or damage) any code, data or software associated with Online Services;
- iii. Anything associated with or available through Online Services belongs to us or other third persons and is protected by intellectual property rights and you agree not to access, download or otherwise use such things other than as expressly permitted by these Terms and Conditions;
 - iv. You accept full responsibility and you indemnify us for any expense, loss or liability incurred as a result of any unauthorised use by you or your Authorised Signatories of such things;
 - v. To keep confidential and secure any information or data obtained at any time by using Online Services; and
 - vi. To keep each login and password secure.
- (b) We will be entitled to assume that any user has your authority each time Online Services is used in conjunction with your login and one or more Security Codes (as required), except for use occurring up to 48 hours after you have given us notice to the contrary.
- (c) We will use reasonable efforts to provide (but do not guarantee that we will provide) reliable data and information, to the extent that it is within our control. We take no responsibility for the reliability of data and information outside our control.
- (d) Subject to conditions and warranties implied by legislation, we exclude:
- i. Liability for any delay, interruption or unavailability of Online Services and for any inaccuracy or incompleteness of data provided by any person and available via Online Services; and
 - ii. All terms implied by statute, general law or custom except ones that may not be excluded. If we breach any condition or warranty implied by legislation in a contract with a customer, liability for that breach is limited to a resupply of the goods or services in respect of which the breach occurred.
- (e) We:
- i. Will use all reasonable efforts to provide (but do not guarantee we will provide) access to Online Services at all reasonable times; and
 - ii. Reserve the right to suspend or terminate use of Online Services at any time for any reason.
- (f) You may end use of this service at anytime by giving us written notice.

4.6 EFT Payments through Online Services

- (a) You must notify us promptly if:
 - i. You become aware that you have made a mistake; or
 - ii. You become aware of any delays or mistakes in processing your transactions.
- (b) We will be entitled to abide by any transaction undertaken via Online Services in conjunction with your login and one or more Security Codes as required for the transaction, whether or not the issuer is authorised, subject only to sufficient available funds and other terms agreed by you and us. This means that all registrations for Online Services will be considered an 'any one to sign' account, unless you have specifically advised otherwise, in writing.
- (c) We will not be obliged to make a payment if:
 - i. It is not made in accordance with these Terms and Conditions or the Online Services Terms and Conditions;
 - ii. The information given to us is incomplete and/or inaccurate;
 - iii. We are restricted by law, regulation, industry code, or the requirement of a government or similar authority from permitting the payment to occur;
 - iv. The instructions are not accepted by our system;
 - v. There is a technical failure outside our system which causes a delay in the transmission or acceptance of the instructions; or
 - vi. The financial institution to which the payment is made causes a delay or error in accepting it.
- (d) We are not liable for any consequential loss or damage you suffer as a result of using Online Services.

4.7 Withdrawals through DDH

- (a) You release us from and indemnify us against all losses and liabilities arising from any payment that we make or action we take based on any instruction that we receive, including in original form, electronically or by facsimile bearing your Account number and a signature apparently yours or your Authorised Signatory.
- (b) We or DDH can refuse withdrawals if we or DDH are not satisfied that your Bank Account or financial institution meets our security, identification or other lawful requirements.
- (c) You must have cleared funds available in your Account when you request funds to be withdrawn.

- (d) We and DDH are not responsible for:
- i. Funds being transferred to the incorrect account as a result of you giving incorrect instructions;
 - ii. Funds being transferred late to your Bank Account; or
 - iii. Any fees charged by any other financial institution in relation to the transfer of funds to a Bank Account by EFT.

4.8 BPAY

Delays may occur in processing a BPAY Payment where:

- (a) there is a public or bank holiday on the day after you tell us to make the BPAY Payment;
- (b) you tell us to make a BPAY Payment on a day which is not followed by a Business Day;
- (c) another financial institution participating in BPAY does not comply with its obligations under BPAY;
- (d) a Biller fails to comply with its obligations under BPAY; or
- (e) there is another circumstance beyond our control such as intermittent communications breakdown or outages or delays in the processing of our payment message by other financial institutions.

While it is expected that any delay in processing for any of these reasons will not continue for more than one Business Day, such delays could continue for a longer period. We are not responsible for such delays. Once we finalise your instructions, any delays are outside of our control. We are not responsible to you for any losses or expenses incurred by you as a result of delays in processing a BPAY Payment.

If we are advised that a Biller cannot process a BPAY Payment, we will tell you, credit your Account with the amount of the BPAY Payment and take all reasonable steps to assist you in making that BPAY Payment as quickly as possible.

4.9 Direct Debit Request Service Agreement

All Direct Debits are actioned by us. By completing a Direct Debit Request (DDR) you are authorising us to arrange for any amount we may debit or charge you to be debited through the Bulk Electronic Clearing System from an account held at the financial institution identified on the Direct Debit Request form and paid to the Debit User, subject to the Terms and Conditions of the Direct Debit Request – Service Agreement.

(a) Debiting your account

- i. By signing a direct debit request, you have authorised us to arrange for funds to be debited from your account.
- ii. We will only arrange for funds to be debited from your account as authorised in the direct debit request.

Under the AML/CTF Act, 2006 we can disclose your name, residential address and date of birth to a Credit Reporting Body ("CRB"). The purpose of the disclosure is to assess whether your personal information disclosed, matches (in whole or part) personal information held in the records of the CRB (if any). This process helps us to verify your identity. The CRB may prepare and provide us with an assessment by using the personal information about you and the names, residential address and dates of birth contained in its records about other individuals. Additionally, documents you have provided us as evidence of your identity, such as: passports, driver's licenses and Medicare cards will be matched against the records of the relevant government agency, via the Australian Governments document verification service (DVS) which allows organisations to compare individuals ID information with government records. We will ask for your consent to do this as part of the application process. If you do not consent to us verifying your identity by electronic verification, we will provide you with an alternative verification process.

You are able to gain access to personal information about you which is held by us. It is also necessary for us to disclose certain information about you to the following types of organisations in connection with the establishment and administration of your Account and/or other banking facilities:

- Related bodies corporate;
- Regulatory bodies and government agencies;

5.7 The relationship between banker and customer

The relationship between a bank and its customer (including the relationship between you and us) has been defined by a number of court cases. Set out below are some of the terms which are implied into any contract between a bank and its customer.

You should be aware that the specific Terms and Conditions applying to our banking services (as defined in the BCOP) may alter these implied terms, and may add new or additional terms. The terms that apply to your Account with us are set out in this booklet.

Terms implied into the contract between banker and customer

Following are some of the terms that are implied into the contract between a bank and its customer in addition to those in your contract for your Account, unless the Terms and Conditions of the particular Account state otherwise:

(a) Our duties:

- Opening accounts – we owe a duty of care to you in opening accounts to make proper enquiries to ensure accurate identification of you and verification of account details.
- Duty of secrecy – we have a duty of secrecy to you with respect to the transactions which go through your account. However, this duty is not absolute and is subject to certain qualifications. For example, we may disclose information where you have expressly or implied consented or as required by law.
- Question a valid mandate – while we are subject to the primary duty to repay on demand an amount due to you, this is conditional upon our duty to question a request for payment. For example, we will do this in circumstances which raise a serious or real possibility that fraud is being committed on the Account.
- Issuing correct statements – we are under a duty to keep accurate accounts. This duty is subject to our entitlement to reverse errors which you know or should have known existed (although you are not under an express duty to read statements and discover and report forgeries).
- Appropriating payments into accounts – we can allocate a payment at our discretion unless you have clearly asked the payment to be used for a special purpose or a particular Account.

(b) Your duties:

- Clear instructions – your instructions on payment of funds must be clear.
- Minimising the risk of forgery – you must exercise reasonable care in making out cheques so that we are not misled and forgery is not facilitated. You must notify us of any forgeries (including unauthorised transactions on your Account) known to you. You generally do not have a duty to inspect statements to discover forgeries, although you are generally obliged to read your account statements and notify us of any entries which you believe are unauthorised.
- Care of methods of accessing your Account – if you are given a cheque book, you must take care of it. If you access your account electronically, you are likely to have specific obligations relating to the security of any equipment.
